COUGARS LEAGUE CHAMPS

High School Beats Sonora On Saturday

Carsten, Goodrich And Buhlert Lead In Attack

A sectional championship will be at stake Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr. Memorial Park when the Cougars, winners in the Mother Lode League, play Elk Grove high school, winners in the Sacramento County league.

Coach Brown and his Cougars returned from Sonora Saturday night, with the championship of the Mother Lode League captured by the 8-5 defeat of the Sonora nine.

This is the second successive Mother Lode baseball championship the local nine has won. El Dorado won the title in 1935 and advanced to the semi-finals before losing to Sacramento. Last year, with the park under repair, the school did not enter a team in the league.

Saturday's game was won with a three run rally in the fourth inning, followed by a two run score in the fifth. In the fourth, successive hits by Buhlert, Carsten and Goodrich, and two errors by the Sonora infield, gave the locals a 3-1 lead, Sonora having tallied in the opening frame.

Butts walked in the fifth, Carsten and Goodrich again hit to send two runs across the plate and give the Cougar nine a commanding lead. So-

SCHOOLS WEEK PROGRAM OPENS

Eastern Star Chapter Will Hear Talk By O. H. Close

The first in a series of events commemorating California Public Schools Week will take place tonight at the regular meeting of Fallen Leaf Chapter No. 90, Order of Eastern Star, at the Masonic temple.

Following the chapter meeting, at which there will be an installation of two officers, the chapter will hear a talk by O. H. Close, superintendent of the Preston School of Industry at Ione, and a well-known educator of the state.

The installation will seat Isabel Volz as associate matron and Edna Simpson as Adah.

The second special event of Public Schools Week will come on Tuesday evening when Placerville Lions hold their annual dinner meeting at the high school.

Wednesday will be the day for the Placerville grammar school's open house and exhibit at the school building, which all parents and patrons of the school are invited to attend.

The hours for the open house are from 1:30 o'clock until 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the main school building, and from 1 o'clock until 2 o'clock at the Uppertown school.

Thursday evening will bring the community Public School Week exercises, at the high school, with Leo Baisden as the principal speaker.

Snowplow Reported As Above Phillips

The state snowplow which is clearing the road over the Echo Summit, was well past Phillips Station Monday morning. However, the road was closed to general passenger traffic at Tamarack Flat.

Leaving early Sunday morning, Henry Steltz, Joe Bramel, Miss Maggie Akins and Alex MacLaughlin spent the day on a visit to San Francisco and Oakland, returning late in the evening.

Coronation Curiosities

By Harold S. Corbin

"DECENTLY SET DOWN"

Copyright, 1937, United Features Syndicate, Inc.

Were the new Queen Elizabeth to follow the rules laid down in Britain's ancient coronation guide, Liber Regalis, she would be bareheaded at the ceremony and her hair would be "decently let down on to her shoulders." She also would wear "a circlet of gold adorned with jewels to keep her hair the more conveniently in order on her head."

Also there would be "the barons of the Cinque Ports . . . carrying a silken cloth over the queen, with as many lances and bells." Beside her a great lady would attend her "for her consolation."

Actually, four duchesses will hold the canopy over Queen Elizabeth as she goes to the altar in Westminster Abbey to be anointed. As soon as the Archbishop of York places the crown on her head, all the peeresses place their coronets on their own heads. Her Majesty then receives her two scepters—one with a cross and one with a dove, similar to the King's but smaller—but she does not retain them long. She has to give them up almost at once and again go to the altar for the sacrament. Later she gets them back again.

Concerning the anointing of the Queen, the same ancient manuscript, the Liber Regalis, provided for everything. In those days the Queen had to lie on the floor in front of the altar, while the officiating bishop or archbishop said a prayer over her. Then, the book directs:

"When this prayer is ended, the Queen shall arise and kneel; and on her head the holy oil shall be poured in the form of a cross. And then she shall be anointed with the same oil in like manner on the breast in manner of a cross . . . And it must be provided that the Queen's mantle be so made that the consecrator can open it easily before the holy anointing of her breast, and that the noble lady who is always to attend on the Queen can easily close it after the anointing."

SMUGGLERS MOURN

MARSEILLES, France (UP)—A coffin arrived from Corsica and, safely landed, was received by 12 mourners, garbed in funeral black. A procession was formed and the cortege started for a cemetery. An alert customs guard noticed that there were no women in the procession. He stopped it and ordered the coffin unsealed. The coffin was filled to the brim with British cigarettes which the mourners had hoped to get through the customs free.

Vernon Hirst, former Bartlett, is playing with Loomis this year and had a two-fold purpose in visiting Placerville Sunday. First was to visit his wife and their daughter, and the second was to play in the ball game. Mrs. Hirst and daughter have been here for two weeks visiting Mrs. Hirst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Longhurst.

An old-time fiddlers' contest will be one of the feature events of the program at the seventh annual Mothers' Day picnic, to be held at the Litten-MacDonald grove at Rescue on May 9th.

Active preparations for the occasion, which is sponsored jointly each year by the Rescue Grange and the Rescue Farm Center, were begun on Thursday evening of last week when the joint committee in charge met at the home of Charles Mayhew.

On the committee are Harry Cridge, Clyde Hodgkins, Vinton Veerkamp, Fred Mayhew, Louis Wunschel and Charles Mayhew.

Program for the day will follow the customary plan when Mother's day exercises at 11 o'clock. Details of the program are now being worked out by the committee.

Following the program will be the luncheon period and this will be followed by an afternoon program of special events including the old-time fiddlers' contest, bicycle races for boys and girls, horse racing, a horseshoe pitching contest and the usual general program of picnic sports.

As is the usual custom, coffee will be provided by the hosts and picnic lunches will be available for those who may not take their own lunch with them.

SCOUT TROOP ENJOYS HIKE FRIDAY NIGHT

Members of the Boy Scout troop of the Federated church took their second over-night hike in as many weeks Friday, going to the Weber Creek bridge on state route 49.

In the absence of Scoutmaster Jack Parsons, the troop was under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Combelleck, assisted by Eagle Scout Loren Dahl.

Others in the party were Eugene Springer, Robert Springer, Wallace Norden, Ted Yeates, Allen Combelleck, Billy Hutchison, Dan Walters, Lyle Smith and Leo Cearley.

The troop hiked to the site Friday evening and pitched an overnight camp. Saturday morning, following camp inspection, some of the members of the troop had a swim in Weber Creek and this was followed by a hike. Some members of the troop also passed various tests.

The return to Placerville was made Saturday after lunch.

Constitution Exam Questions Are Set

Members of the county school board met Saturday at the school administration offices and outlined questions for the annual examination on the U. S. Constitution, to be taken by all candidates for eighth grade graduation.

The board also recommended Mrs. Mildred M. Enzler for a life certificate in the general elementary grade.

The board will meet again on May 22 to canvass the results of the examination on the Constitution and to certify, in co-operation with the rural school supervisor, the candidates for graduation.

LINCOLN BOWS TO COLFAX IN CLOSE CONTEST

COLFAX—The Colfax Lions won a closely fought game from the Lincoln Black Cats yesterday by the score of 5 to 4. With the score tied in the seventh, Schroeder beat out a bunt, was sacrificed to second and scored the winning run on Freeman's two base hit. Highlights of the game were Prescott's line drive home run for Lincoln; Cliff Perry's all around fielding; Schroeder's one-handed catch of Prescott's line drive and Bill Kelly's relief pitching. It was Lincoln's third defeat of the season. The score:

Lincoln	4	7	3
Colfax	5	8	2

Batteries—Maciel and T. Barnes; Rogers, Kelly and Simmons.

SPANKING ORDERED

NEW YORK (UP)—A night club is no place for children of 19 or 20, even if they are college students, Magistrate Louis B. Brodsky told the mothers of two boys accused of striking a woman early Sunday morning. "Take your son home," he told Mrs. A. L. Moore, the mother of William, 20, one of the defendants, "remove his diapers and apply an old fashioned spanking."

Mrs. W. L. Nightengale and Mrs. Frank Lasswell were Friday callers from the Latrobe district.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ogden Hook returned Sunday from a two-week vacation trip which took them to Los Angeles, Death Valley, Boulder Dam and Yosemite National Park. They report a very enjoyable and interesting trip. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Hook's brother, George Stanley, who continued on to Loyalton, where he is stationed with the forest service.

GRANDSTAND Gossip

By Bob Vivian

In 27 innings of baseball but two earned runs have been scored of Bartlett hurlers, one off Roderick at Roseville and Prescott's home run in the Lincoln game. Jackson deserved a shutout Sunday.

Jackson's ten strikeouts in Sunday's game brought his total for the two games he has pitched to 22, which gives him the title of "strike out king." Twice during the contest with men on second and third and but one out, the Camino lad bore down and struck out the next two batters.

Two of the six hits he allowed were for three bases, both coming after one was out, but neither runner scored. Both hits were hard hit balls two right field.

Al Pilliard and Vernon Hirst, two former Bartletts were in the Loomis lineup. Pilliard scored the Loomis tally, and both took one hit for four during the day.

Loomis looked bad in a couple of spots during the game, especially in the fifth inning when with Woerner on second and Warren on first, Al Prince struck out. Smyth, Loomis catcher, dropped the ball, and Prince started for first. Smyth took the ball and touched third thinking he had Woerner. Warren had taken a long lead off first and Smyth threw to first in an effort to catch Warren and Woerner went to third. Smyth did not have to play for any runner as Prince was automatically out when first base was occupied.

Backerich handled first base in good style. He probably stopped a run when he made a great catch of Clark's high throw in the fifth. Leaping high off the ground he speared the ball with on hand in time for the putout. With a man on second, an overthrow would have been bad at that time.

Manager Aubrey Warren and Al Prince both broke into the hit column for the first time this year. Each getting two singles. Aubrey fanned in the first with two men on, but hit in his next two trips to the plate.

Al Prince couldn't get the ball to second in time so had five stolen bases chalked up against him. A stolen base make a single as good as a two bagger so Al will have to get those runners at second.

Speaking of getting runners at second, the Bart infield was too fast on one play yesterday, so there's one assist missing in the box score. The writer does not know who threw the ball to Neil in the eighth inning. We couldn't find out from the bleacher fans as none of them could agree.

If the Bartletts can do as well as their younger brothers, the Cougars, it will be a great year for sports in El Dorado County. The Cougars won their league title, so the Barts have an example to follow.

Jackson was opposed on the mound by Bill Coten, who pitched for the Bartletts in the old Foothill league over ten years ago. Coten did not last long. (Continued on page 4)

47-PASSENGER PLANE FLEET

Britain Builds Dozen Ships; Comfort Stressed

By DAN ROGERS

United Press Staff Correspondent
SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (U)—Twelve giant airliners, the largest for regular transport service in the world, are under construction for Imperial Airways by Sir W. G. Armstrong Whitworth Aircraft, Ltd., at Hamble, near here. So big are the planes that a road is being especially built so that they may be rolled from the shops to a flying field.

An idea of their size may be gained from the dimensions of their tires, 6 feet, 3 inches in diameter and 2 feet, 2 inches wide. Despite this size, the landing-gear will be retractable, three-fourths of the big wheel sliding back and up into the wing when in flight.

Fully loaded, the planes will weigh 20 tons, one and one-half tons more than Imperial's big flying boats. The cost will be between $200,000 and $225,000 each. They are designed to carry 42 passengers, a crew of five, mail and cargo. Their top speed is expected to be 210 miles an hour and their range 1,000 miles non-stop against a 40-mile headwind. The wing span is 127 feet; the fuselage is 114 feet long.

"We stress comfort where American airlines stress speed," an Imperial Airways official remarked. "and we are as far ahead on comfort as America is on speed."

He was demonstrating the comfortable berths, the luxurious, adjustable chairs, and individual tables, lights and ventilators provided for each passenger.

FISH STORY

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (U)—John Beattie marveled today at the adaptability of the Siamese twins born of his blue moon tropical fish. They were joined at the stomach in which a way that when on faced east the other faced west. Instead of swimming in circles, Beattie said, "one goes forward and the other reverses."

PROSECUTOR ERRS

SAYERS HEADS STATE DEMOLAY

the Order of DeMolay and he is a past Master Councilor of the division.

It was from this post that he stepped upward to the post of State Senior Councilor and now is elevated to state leadership.

Sayers' candidacy was actively supported at the convention by his fellow members in El Dorado Chapter, fifteen of whom attended the state convention.

The members of the delegation report a very interesting and enjoyable experience, both in the convention and at various special functions which were a part of the program for the more than five hundred young men in attendance.

Highlights of the meeting were the annual ball Saturday evening and a service Sunday morning at the stadium of the Santa Cruz high school, where the Order of Chivalier was conferred upon 21 members.

This was the first time that the degree had been conferred in the history of the order in the United States.

The Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay has announced the appointment of the following Grand Council deputies in California: A. M. Mudell of Bakersfield, J. Mantell of Stockton, Louis S. Goldstein of San Francisco, and Frank N. Killian of Sacramento.

"HORSE'S EARS"

NEW YORK (U)—George Rector, former restaurateur and author, has suggested the "naturalization" into the American language of the "strangling, gargling word which is spelled Horsedoeuvre." Because representative Maury Maverick of Texas, was the first public man to suggest an American name for "million and one" canapes, stuffed eggs, anchovies and the like, Rector suggested that the new name be "Mavericks."

sonora with two hits a walk and an error scored three in the sixth, but the locals with Buhler and Carsten again hitting, scored twice in the seventh. Sonora picked up another tally in their half of the same stanza.

It fell to Kenneth Ward to lift the Cougars out of a bad situation in the last half of the ninth inning when there were three Sonorans on base with two batters out.

A high foul sailed well back into a section where rosters were sitting in parked cars and Ward after it. He got in between to parked cars and caught the foul for the put-out.

Chet Carsten, on the mound for the Cougars, allowed six hits, struck out eight and walked four. Sonora used two chuckers, Suttle and Siegel.

Champions of four counties, comprising eight schools, a Cougar team met and defeated a Sonora team for the second time this year. The local C team beat the Sonora Cees in March for a basketball title.

LILY PONS ILL

NEW YORK (UP)—Lily Pons, movie star and soprano of the Metropolitan opera, entered the Lenox Hill hospital last night for observation. Her physician, Dr. W. R. Dalzell, said that her condition, while not serious, necessitates rest.

numerous times but bore down on each occasion to retire the side without a score.

The Bartletts started scoring in the opening frame when Clark, leadoff man, singled and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Neil. Reeder struck out but Woerner followed with a hit to score Clark. Visintainer singled and both advanced on a passed ball, Warren fanned to retire side.

Placerville took a three to nothing lead in the second, scoring twice after two were out. Prince singled and Backerich drew a base on balls. Jackson and Clark were both retired, but Neil was walked, filling the bases. On a hit and run play, Reeder singled into center to score Prince and Backerich. Loomis picked up their lone tally of the game in the sixth, when Al Pilliard, former Bartlett, singled after two were out, stole second and scored when Clark let Irwin's hit go through at short.

The Bartletts scored their fourth and fifth tallies in the seventh and eighth. In the seventh, Reeder doubled and scored on Visintainer's hit. Prince was safe in the eighth inning when Gordon dropped his fly in right. He went to second when Bruegger threw wild to first, to third on Jackson's sacrifice and scored on an infield out.

After Tinkle relieved Coten in the third inning the game settled down to a pitcher's battle. Tinkle allowed but four hits during the time he was in the game.

Manager Aubrey Warren changed his lineup and the team looked the best it has this year. Putting Reeder and Woerner in the outfield give the outer garden a steady crew and Vis-

THE Book Mark

To those who are interested in public affairs we recommend E. B. Ashton's "The Fascist, His State and His Mind" (Morrow), a study of dictatorship both in Italy and Germany. "We Cover the World" edited by Eugene Lyons consists of articles written by 16 foreign correspondents. The announcement tells us that it is full of color and adventure and that it touches on great events and persons. In "Dusk of Empire" rapidly becoming a best seller, William Wythe discusses world events and prophesize the decline of Europe.

A professor from Harvard, Carl Friedrichs has written a timely book "Constitutional Government and Politics" and a professor from Yale, Walton H. Hamilton, has written one on a kindred subject, "The Constitution Then and Now." Another book keeping pace with matters of public concern is Morris L. Ernst's "The Ultimate Power," a lucid explanation of the Constitution and its amendments. We were interested in the following bit of compact information we learned recently—The Supreme Court has passed upon 58,000 cases and only 84 of these cases have been declared unconstitutional. Thirteen cases were declared unconstitutional during Grant's administration at the time of the Reconstruction, 12 during the war when Woodrow Wilson was President and 12 during the economic crisis of the present administration.

Two new books on Russia are seasonable—"The Revolution Betrayed" by Trotsky and "The Letters of Lenin" translated by Elizabeth Hill. Trotsky believes that Russia should be the center of a world movement, while Etahlin's interest in international propaganda has diminished. He believes that Russia should look first to her own government. Lenin was the ablest of the three men and he knew how to use Trotsky and Stalin for the good of the state, but when Lenin died, Russia was not big enough to hold the other two. Trotsky is a man of words, with an intellectual appeal to a limited group. Stalin is both a man of the people and a man of action. Trotsky believes that the Revolution did not adhere to Marxian principles and that there should be another revolution. He, in turn, has been accused of sabotage and of intriguing with Germany and Japan.

Ruth Thompson, author of "Eating Around San Francisco" (Suttonhouse, $2.50) suggests a delightful, progressive dinner for those who want a lark in San Francisco. Miss Thompson, food editor of the San Francisco News, would be a jolly companion. She rolls her blue eyes when she talks about food in the approved Hollywood manner and gives her voice the proper May West intonation.

If you are accustomed to begin your dinner with a cocktail, go to Charlie and Dominic's on California Street, where the politically minded gather for one of their "Old Fashions" served with crackers and fat shrimps. The owners were friends of Mayor Rolfe's and went deer hunting with him in the old days. If, instead, you begin your dinner with hors-d'oeuvre, go to John's Rendezvous which is in the only building in the Latin quarter that survived the fire of 1906. You enter through a little, cobblestone alley. Jumbo olives, pickled pig's feet and all kinds of delectable tid bits are served. To the "Backyard" for one of their famous salads of shredded wild dandelion (full of iron). Then off to Fishermen's Wharf to the Grotto for clam broth or clam chowder, depending upon how hungry you are. Here you can look out of the wide windows to the fishing boats bobbing below, to the Embarcadero and Coit Tower. For an entree, be swanky and go to Paul's on California Street and feast in princely fashion on pheasant, a specialty of the house. Top off your dinner with the very best banana fritters at the "Manger" on Washington Street.

Miss Thopson has been a guest on all of the big ships that come in through the Golden Gate and in her book she tells you about ship kitchens. She has been introduced to the secrets of the Southern Pacific commissary which she reveals. A gay account of how circus people eat makes good reading. "The YMCA is broad-minded compared to the circus," she tells you, "the boys eat on one side, the girls on the other and if you are married, you must eat with your own family." If you go to the Japanese restaurant, be sure that there are no holes in your stockings, because you will be asked to change to sandals at the door. At the Armenian restaurant, you can drink Turkish coffee and even smoke a Turkish pipe. Exotic flavors of Basque cookery are a feature at the Hotel Espagnol. In fact, you are not eating in San Francisco, you are eating around the world.

Chef Hanges has checked over the recipes in the book, observing scientific methods of food combination and balance. The chef was born in Cairo, Egypt. He is part French and has the wit and logic of a Frenchman. "French chefs don't know anything about cookery until they come to this country," he boldly asserts, "all they know is how to season food." Chef Hanges is really a gustatory genius as he is both chemist and dietician and at the same time both epicure and the artist who makes a fine art of food preparation. "Eating Around San Francisco" is profusely and charmingly illustrated.

SEWARD, Alaska (UP)—C. J. Lincke of Cooper's Landing owns a meat-eating moose called "Sookie." The pet stole a mulligan stew of "low bush moose" from a shelf and ate all of it.
